THE GOLDEN DAYS OF AUTUMN

From Our President!

Dear Friends,

Why is it that when we say things are one way, it changes? We say it's been a dry summer, and we get rain for 10 days straight. I said in the last Barquer that our intake figures were way lower than in past years, and almost immediately we were facing the acceptance of 10 Golden Retrievers. All were from owners (instead of shelters) and in most case the reason for surrender had financial motives.

Good news for all these Golden: some were young and healthy and were quickly adopted into wonderful homes after GRRCNY provided minimal veterinary care and spaying or neutering for several; others, mainly Golden a little older and lot more neglected medically, remain in foster and the veterinary care continues. For the Golden, the first day of the rest of their lives (Intake day) is a happy day!!! But that pales by comparison to Adoption Day.

Our problem now is that increasingly the Adoption Applications we receive and the home interviews we do as a result of those applications identify for us people not willing or able to take on the financial uncertainty of a senior dog. It is predictable that sooner rather than later the dog will present the challenge of veterinary bills. I have written in previous Barquers how much my seniors – adopted as seniors – mean to me but I understand people's hesitancy. If you know of anyone who might be interested in the senior and who is comfortable with the financial uncertainty, talk with them about applying.

Now as much as any time in our program's history we are grateful for your generosity to us. As rescuers we promise you that we are tightening our belts and measuring the necessity of each expenditure – the veterinarians we use most often are so patient in explaining again and again why a test or procedure is necessary. Our standard remains as it always has been: we will provide the same care of a rescued Golden as we would want for one of our own Golden. Not less.

Thank you for all you do to help us help Golden in need.

Carol

A Golden Goes Out For A Job...

A businessman was looking for office help. He put a sign in the window, stating the following: "HELP WANTED. Must be able to type, must be good with a computer and must be bilingual. We are an Equal Opportunity Employer." A short time afterwards, a Golden Retriever trotted up to the window, saw the sign and went inside. He looked at the receptionist and wagged his tail, then walked over to the sign, looked at it and whined. Getting the idea, the receptionist got the office manager. He looked at the Golden and was surprised, to say the least. However, the Golden looked determined, so he lead him into the office. Inside, the Golden jumped up on the chair and stared at the manager. The manager said, "I can't hire you. The sign says you have to be able to type." The Golden jumped down, went to the typewriter and proceeded to type out a perfect letter. He took out the page and trotted over to the manager and gave it to him, then jumped back on the chair.

The manager was stunned, but then told the Golden, "the sign says you have to be good with a computer." The Golden jumped down again and went to the computer. The Golden then proceeded to enter and execute a perfect program that worked flawlessly the first time.

By this time the manager was totally dumb-founded! He looked at the Golden and said, "I realize that you are a very intelligent Golden and have interesting abilities. However, I STILL can't give you the job." The Golden jumped down and went to a copy of the sign and put his paw on the sentences that told about being an Equal Opportunity Employer. The manager said, "yes, but the sign ALSO says that you have to be bilingual." The Golden calmly looked at the manager, sat down and said, "MEOW!"

LOOKING FOR HOMES IN CENTRAL NEW YORK

Won't You Open Up
Your Heart and Home
To A Senior Golden?
Remember...

LUCKY is a wonderful mature, healthy and active lady of 12 years. She gets on well with other dogs and will play for short periods. She will defend herself if she considers it necessary. Lucky and cats co-exist fine (but she likes kitty litter a little too much). She seeks affection and wants to be near you. Has been known to knock over a gate and open a screen door to be with you. Does not run off when she does this – her goal is closeness, not freedom. Great with children. Eats well. Does not try to be on furniture. Is not much of a barker. Her foster mom considers her a “sweet” and good companion. Lucky shows the predictable signs of a dog that has had to fend for herself in this world. This sweet Golden Retriever needs a forever home to live the rest of her life in a secure and safe place.

Hi. I am Mistico:

I am an active 11-year-old for someone to love and, when necessary, Mom says I am a beautiful fenced yard and small dog that I love to problem give him a I am not possessive of dogs and absolutely love

“leave it” after Mom puts down my food bowl and I sit and wait until the command to come/eat is given. I will sit, then down and stay for an extended time

I love a bath. Any form of reward is appreciated after I work so hard to please you, even if it is just a pat on my head.

I sleep on the floor at the foot of my foster Mom and Dad’s bed after I have been outside for my last trip of the day and bark twice to let everyone know the day is ending. My right eye is small but I never miss a squirrel at 50 yards. I may be 11 yrs old but I am very capable of anything you can think of including tons of love and playing. They say I should have a fenced yard.

Come on and give me a serious look and we will have many years of good times together.

KEYSTONE is a BIG boy. In spite of his 126 pounds, he moves around quite nicely, is alert and playful and is losing weight. His weight loss has already begun – he was 140 a month ago. He is wonderful in a group of dogs and has a distinctive and engaging personality. Keystone had a neglected past and except for too much food, he wasn’t given much attention and stimulation. That has changed and it is fun to watch him blossom. Will you help Keystone to become Keystone Light?

old Golden who is looking me. I am quite obedient my foster mom gets on me. ful, gentle older guy. I love share my foster home with a race around with. I have no run for the money. my toys or food with other people of all sizes. I will

Ask the Barquer!

Q : When I adopted Benny from GRRCNY, it was recommended that we enroll together in an Obedience Class. I haven't yet done so because it seems to me that classes won't help what problems I have with him. I'm not interested in Obedience competition and titles. Am I wrong?

A : In answering your question, I first phoned you to learn what problems you are having with Benny and was pleased – and relieved – to hear that the problems are not serious but rather annoying.

- jumping on guests when they first come in.
- sometimes taking things off tables and counters and running off with them.
- some pulling on lead on your walks.

We often recommend obedience training, and sometimes include formal obedience classes as an Adoption Contract item. We do this for two significant reasons:

- 1) the dog-human bond is enhanced by Obedience training because of the quality time spent together in class and in practice. It requires you both learn to focus just on each other. It also helps to clarify who the pack leader really is and the earlier in the relationship this can be established, the better.
- 2) You learn from your instructor and your experience just how dogs learn. They learn
 - because of your CONSISTENCY. Same response from you each time; same response from others in your household helps, too.
 - By REPETITION – over and over again. You show him many times what you want many, many times and rewarding him by praise, food rewards or a combination of the two.
 - By your POSITIVE REINFORCEMENT of the desired behavior and by rewarding only when he demonstrates the behavior you want. Further, by you never giving a command and then ignoring his failure to comply. Better to ignore him in the first place than to tolerate his ignoring of your command.

While SIT, STAY, COME, DOWN, HEEL, and STAND are all expected for the AKC Companion Dog title, not everyone is interested in training with a title as a goal. But most dog owners are interested in training with the goal of a better mannered companion. For your dog to perform these several actions on your command will eliminate many dog behavior problems. Its really simple: a dog can't do something wrong and something right at the same time. A "SIT" with a reliable "Stay" will eliminate your dog's ability to jump on Aunt Susan. And why not ask Aunt Susan to offer Benny a treat before the "Sit/Stay" is released?

As Dog Trainer Pat Miller recently wrote in YOUR DOG (The Tufts Univ. School of Veterinary Medicine Magazine):

A good positive training class can help in resolving behavior problems by helping you and your dog learn to communicate more clearly with each other. The better you understand how his mind works and the better he understands what it is you expect of him, the stronger the relationship between you. In the end, it's the strength of this relationship that will carry you through the challenges of dog care taking and allow you to experience the joys and rewards of sharing your life with a canine companion.

I hope your question about the value of formal obedience classes has been answered.

Foster Home Spotlight

This issue's foster home spotlight features Petey and a foster dog's view on what it is liked to be fostered. Ever wonder how fun it could be to foster a golden? Read about Petey's first days at his foster home on the GRRCNY website.

Petey, one lucky dog.....

Holiday Gift Idea!

We have a great gift idea to give a golden this holiday season, by offering your heart and home to a golden as a foster home. We are limited to the number of dogs we can save by the foster homes we have available. You can make a difference in a golden's chances for a wonderful forever home!

If you have adopted from us in the past, you have already been through our screening process and may be in a position to help another Golden find it's way to a "forever" home. Won't you open your heart and your home, for a few weeks, to a Golden in need? We appreciate your dollars, but we REALLY need your time and the care that you can give. Please call Marge Hoyt 315/469-1657 and help save a Golden Today!

NOMINATING COMMITTEE REPORTS

The Nominating Committee of Sallie Lennox, Kim Dowd and Kristen Monroe have presented a Slate of Officers and Board of Director Members as follows:

President: Carol Allen Vice President: Kim Dowd
Secretary: Kristen Monroe Treasurer: Robert Miller
Members, Board of Directors: Janet Gray, Phil Jefferis, Marge Hoyt

At the October th Annual Meeting nominations of other candidates for any and all positions may be made and, if necessary, an election will be held. Officers and members of the Board of Directors serve one-year terms beginning on January 1.

WHEN I AM OLD...

I shall wear Turquoise and soft gray sweatshirts...
and a bandana over my silver hair...
and I shall spend my Social Security Checks
on Sweet Wine and My Dogs... and sit in my house on my well-worn chair,
and listen to my dog's breathing.

I will sneak out in the middle of a warm Summer night
and take my dogs for a run, if my old bones will allow...
and when people come to call,
I will smile and nod as I show them my dogs...
and talk of them and about them...

The Ones so Beloved of the Past and the Ones so Beloved of Today...

I still will work hard cleaning after them
and mopping and feeding them
and whispering their names in a soft, loving way.

I will wear the gleaming sweat on my throat like a jewel,
and I will be an embarrassment to all...
and my family...

who have not yet found the peace in being free
to have dogs as your Best Friends....

These friends who always wait,
at any hour, for your footfall...
and eagerly jump to their feet out of a sound sleep,
to greet you as if you are a God.

With warm eyes full of adoring love and hope that you will stay and hug their big, strong necks... and kiss their dear sweet heads... and whisper to them of your love and the beautiful pleasure of their very special company....

I look in the Mirror...
and see I am getting old...
this is the kind of woman I am...
and have always been.

Loving dogs is easy, they are part of me,
accept me for who I am,
my dogs appreciate my presence in their lives...
when I am old this will be important to me...
you will understand when you are old...
and if you have dogs to love too.

How You Can Help!!!

We are grateful to all of our contributors, through whose generous donations, we are able to provide medical care to all of our foster dogs. But this year, possibly because our economy is sluggish, donations are down, and we fear a day when we might have to forego a necessary operation because it might mean another foster dog wouldn't get care he or she needs. Won't you help? All contributions are tax deductible and will be gratefully acknowledged. As a supporter of GRRONY, you'll also receive quarterly issues of The Barquer, as well as our Good As Gold catalog! All contributions help fund our Rescue efforts and also help with medical costs for our foster Golden!

Letters From Our Friends

Cosmo is doing wonderfully. He is the light of our lives now that all the kids are gone. He is such a great dog. He has adjusted so well to our family. The kids were all home this summer to visit and he stole their hearts. He still loves to play with his tennis balls. We have to put it away sometimes. And he loves swimming and his morning walks and his biscuits and likes the groomer. He looks very handsome when he is done. You can tell his previous owner to rest assured that he is doing well and we love him to death. We know that it must have been hard to give him up. He is such a sweetheart. We love him very much and are taking good care of him. If I were the one who had given up Cosmo, I would also be wondering how he is. He has a way with stealing hearts.

Upon sharing the above with the surrendering and original owner (with identifying information deleted), the previous owner writes back. Thank you, thank you.....and thank you again. Through weepy eyes and a fistful of tissues, thank you!

Dog Aging

Author Unknown

My body may age but my mind will stay young.
I've much left to do, many songs to be sung,
many roads are to be travelled, much love to express,
many souls that need aid, who are now in distress.
I will do what I can to help brighten your day,
I will spread cheer and love as I pass by your way.
The world is my oyster, to have and to hold,
why, I'm really too busy to ever grow old.

The Rainbow Bridge

Just this side of Heaven is a place called Rainbow Bridge. When an animal dies that has been especially close to someone here, that pet goes to Rainbow Bridge. There are meadows and hills for all of our special friends so they can run and play together. There is plenty of food, water and sunshine and our friends are warm and comfortable.

All the animals who had been ill and old are restored to health and vigor; those who were hurt or maimed are made whole and strong again, just as we remember them in our dreams of days and times gone by. The animals are happy and content, except for one small thing: they each miss someone very special, someone who was left behind.

They all run and play together, but the day comes when one suddenly stops and looks into the distance. His bright eyes are intent; his eager body begins to quiver. Suddenly, he breaks from the group, flying over the green grass, faster and faster. You have been spotted, and when you and your special friend finally meet, you cling together in joyous reunion, never to be parted again.

The happy kisses rain upon your face; your hands again caress the beloved head, and you look once more into those trusting eyes, so long gone from your life, but never absent from your heart. Then you cross the Rainbow Bridge together. - Author Unknown
